Brandon burlsworth accident report

BURLSWORTH KILLED IN CRASH. Carrolton (AP) - Former Arkansas offensive guard BRANDON BURLSWORTH, 22, a third-round draft pick of the Indianapolis Colts on April 17, was driving on U.S. 412 when he became involved in the crash with two tractor-trailers, officials said. State police confirmed the death but would not release details of the wreck late Wednesday, saying it was under investigation. BURLSWORTH'S older brother and agent, Marty, said BRANDON was on his way home for dinner at the time of the crash. "I had just left my mom's when a state trooper came to her home and told her," Marty Burlsworth said. "He was a little late. We were only moderately concerned. But when I got the call on the cell phone, I knew, right then, what happened. We're just in shock." The 6-3 1/4, 308-pound offensive quard had earned All Southeastern Conference honors. He was a second team All-American. He attended an NFL combine last February and impressed scouts. BURLSWORTH ran a 40-yard dash in 4.88 seconds and recorded a 31.5-inch vertical leap. Arkansas sports information director Rick Schaeffer said BURLSWORTH was the Jan. 1 Citrus Bowl. BURLSWORTH was the Jan. 1 Citrus Bowl. BURLSWORTH had a master's degree in business administration. BURLSWORTH said the day of the draft that his education - and temperament - would keep him from wildly spending his anticipated NFL salary. "I've learned not to do that," BURLSWORTH told The Associated Press on April 17. "I'm really a tight individual by nature. I'll put that (money) up somewhere and let it grow." Marty Burlsworth has seen the elation of draft day turn to despair. "Basically it seems unreal," Marty Burlsworth said. "He was such a good guy. He worked so hard and sacrificed so much. It was all in front of him. It ended so suddenly." BURLSWORTH had just returned from a mini-camp in Indianapolis. He had worked out in Fayetteville Wednesday and had lunch with a friend, Brent Bender to come to Indianapolis to see BURLSWORTH play. "We were talking about old times," Brent Bender told the Northwest Arkansas Times in Fayetteville. "He couldn't believe how fortunate he was that things were working out for him like they had. Brandon was everything you wanted in a friend, a son and a football player. He was the total package." University officials expressed similar sentiments. "You never expect it. You never expect a 22-year-old to not be there," Schaeffer said. Coach Houston Nutt had been informed of BURLSWORTH'S family. There are no words that can describe the way we feel," Nutt said in a statement read by Schaeffer. Arkansas Athletic Director Frank Broyles said the university would work to honor BURLSWORTH'S memory. "We're just ... saddened and offer our thoughts and prayers to the family." He said he and the team's coaches would work to "honor BRANDON for all that he meant to this university." Officials from the Indianapolis Colts had no immediate comment Wednesday night. The Cabin Kentucky 1999-04-29 Before I leave the remarkable legacy of Harrison's Brandon Burlsworth and the film of his life called Greater, now showing in nearly 400 theaters across America, I want to share a few back-story notes about the 22-year-old Razorback All-American who died in a tragic traffic accident on April 28, 1999. For instance, the film didn't disclose that, shortly before his death, Brandon had formed a budding relatively new for Brandon since his focus had been solely on his family, faith, friends, football and earning his master's degree. "He always said there would be time for girls later, but he had things he needed to accomplish first," said his mother, Barbara Burlsworth, a Harrison Realtor. "Brandon was such a humble person who cared about and respected others," she continued. "He'd be completely blown away by all this attention focused on him. He just never sought the limelight. Instead, he did set goals and worked hard to achieve them." Although Brandon became a stickler for staying focused and doing things the right way, he also was a typically sloppy teenager until the 10th grade when Barbara told him if he was serious about going to college, "he'd better get his act together." He was able to focus and achieve his primary goals that included earning a master's degree, making All-American and being drafted by an NFL team. Tommy Tice, Brandon's high school coach at Harrison, said most people couldn't know that Brandon had etched the noseband of his trademark black-rim glasses with the words "All-American." "He literally kept his goal focused right behind his nose through his college career." Another trait that set Brandon apart was his respectful devotion to doing whatever authority figures asked of him. "He listened, then just did it," said Tice. Tice also told of a time when he'd become agitated with another lineman during practice and told the team to watch. "I took the player's helmet and put it on," said Tice. "Then I turned around and the next player I faced was Brandon. When I told him to come at me full force to demonstrate my lesson about blocking, Brandon knocked me flat on my back, leaving me dazed for several seconds." The coach said he managed to get back to his feet, still surrounded by the team. "I remember handing the helmet back to the other player, then shouting: "Well, by gosh, that will be the last time I teach you that lesson!" The team broke into laughter. Tice, now the athletic director for Huntsville, said he's never donned another helmet. The film shows Brandon receiving a scholarship offer from Arkansas Tech University. In reality he also had one from Henderson State University. He declined both, insisting instead on joining the Razorbacks as a walk-on. In the book about Brandon's life, retired businessman Bud Walsh of Harrison is credited with advising Brandon's older brother Marty to contact Razorback as a walk-on. In the book about Brandon. He said Ford wasn't enthused and even said Brandon would never earn a scholarship because he wasn't the type of player they were looking for. Yet Ford agreed to let Brandon and Marty also have a brother named Grady. I asked Barbara about what her son's faith meant to him. "We attended the First Assembly in Harrison and Brandon was always there, starting at about 10 years old. He became very active in the youth group. He made close friends with Ed Robinson, who was a bit older. Brandon and Ed played football together and became very close friends over the years. In fact, Ed, who works for FedEx in Harrison and has three children, even named his oldest son after Brandon." Tammy and Danny Roth of Harrison were friends of the Burlsworths. After Brandon was drafted by the Indianapolis Colts, the caring couple asked Barbara if they might give Brandon some new shirts and a set of luggage for his trip. She agreed, and the night before Brandon was drafted by the Indianapolis Colts, the caring couple asked Barbara if they might give Brandon some new shirts and a set of luggage for his trip. She agreed, and the night before Brandon was drafted by the Indianapolis Colts, the caring couple asked Barbara if they might give Brandon some new shirts and a set of luggage for his trip. The note arrived on the day Brandon died. "I sent one of those shirts to the funeral home and Brandon was buried in it," said Barbara. While the pain of losing Brandon died. "I sent one of those shirts to the funeral home and Brandon was buried in it," said Barbara. While the pain of losing Brandon died. "I sent one of those shirts to the funeral home and the Burlsworth family, Barbara said she's also come to recognize a larger and mysterious divine plan in all that Brandon's indomitable spirit achieved during his brief lifetime. She smiles when she sees the many was killed in a car accident near Alpena, Arkansas, on April 28, 1999, on his way back to his hometown of Harrison after a workout in Fayetteville. Burlsworth die? Burlsworth die? Burlsworth, 22, died 10 days after his selection on April 28, 1999, in a car crash in Arkansas. Although he never played a down in the NFL, he had impressed Mudd enough during mini-camp that the Colts were projecting the newcomer as a starter. When did Brandon Burlsworth die? How much weight did Brandon Burlsworth lose? "We put Brandon on a diet, just mainly vegetables," Knight said. "He lost from 309 that first day we weighed him to 252 when we sent them home at Christmas. Where was Brandon Burlsworth killed? Alpena, AR Where is Brandon Burlsworth buried? Omaha, AR Is Greater a true story? The film is meticulously modeled after the true life story of the former walk-on from Harrison, Arkansas. This week, after more than a decade of dedicated efforts by Brian Reindl and Marty and Vickie Burlsworth, Brandon Burlsworth's remarkable story will hit the big screen to begin to inspire a new generation. Who is the old man at the end of greater? Now, it won't take a rocket scientist or even high school football coach to release that instigator, never named in the film but listed in the credits as "The Farmer," is none other than Beelzebub, a.k.a. Old Nick, or simply the Devil. You might be interested: How to report an accident to insurance Who was Brandon Burlsworth coach at Arkansas? Houston Nutt Who won the Brandon Burlsworth Award?
